The eighteen certificates now involved were deposited by George E. Wiechers with the firm of Field, Lindley, Wiechers to, to be transferred into new shares n the American Sugar Refining Comin the American Sugar Refining Com-pany. At the time the certificates were equivalent to 500 shares of common stock, at 100 1-8 per cent., and 900 shares of preferred, at 99 7-8.

These, it is alleged, were fraudulently ransferred to E. M. Hussey, thence to be Central Trust Company. Charles R. Helke, auditor of the Amer-an Sugar Refining Company, was the

sted here.
The plaintiff was the rst witnes called r the defense. He told of his transitions with Edward M. Field in regard the stock, and testified as to its lue. A letter, written by Mr. Wiechs to the company, was next put in evdence.

It stated that Mr. Wiechers had de-losited shares with Field, and that 1,400 of the preferred shares of Sugar were nissing. He asked the company's ald in tracing them. Mr. Wiechers said he

of the preferred shares of Sugar were missing. He asked the company's aid in tracing them. Mr. Wiechers said he had ordred Field to sell the common stock. They had realized $107.80. He had seen the missing certificates at Field's office in April, 1891, just previous to his going to Porto Rico.

On cross-examination Mr. Wiecher's said he was not familiar with stock transactions. Lawyer Strong drew out that at Mr. Wiecher's first meeting with Field he had indorsed ten certificates to Field as collateral for a loan to his son. The others he gave Field to have them transferred into stock under the new Sugar Trust agreement.

Field, Mr. Wiechers's said, stated that it was not necessary for the witness to indorse the certificates in order to make the transfer. On Feb. II, 1891, Field came to the witness and asked the latter to give him power to sell the stock. When the firm of Field, Lindley, Wiechers & Co. failed, the witness said in the Western National Bank, and not touch the certificates. He then returned to New York and began searching for the certificates, but could find no trace of them. The American Sugar Refining Company informed him that no certificates had been issued in his name.

when asked why he did not call on dward M. Field, Mr. Wiechers replied at he was told that Field was insane. The next witness, George W. Ely. Sectary of the New York Stock Exange, testified that in 1891 D. A. Lind, of the firm of Field, Lindley. Wiesers & Co., was a member of the exange.

"Mrs. Meyer was not hurt. It could hardly be called an assault. The woman was irritable and cross and wanted to be left alone."

Dr. W. J. O'Sullivan, of cousel for Dr. Meyer, differs in his tory from the statement of Warden Fallon regarding the alleged assault upon Mrs. Meyer.

The doctor-lawyer visited Mrs. Meyer in the Tombs this afternoon and he says:

"The truth is this: Mrs. Meyer sate reading a letter when this drunken woman pounced upon her and struck her a blow on the bridge of the nose. The blow felled Mrs. Meyer to the floor, and to-day both her eyes are discolored, and she is in a state bordering on prostration. She is in a highly nervous condition from the affair.

"It is not true htat Mrs. Meyer interfered with that woman in any way, Mrs. Meyer is a fragile woman, refined and intellectual, shrinking from the companions forced upon her in her present unfortunate surroundings."

There were six men in the jury box when the irial of Dr. Meyer was resumed by free Recorder Smyth, in Part II, of the Ccurt of General Sessions, this morning, and a special panel of 150 jurcra was on hand from which to select the other six men to try the man who is charged with murdering Ludwig Brandt

While speculation in the railway list dragged throughout the morning the in dustrials forged to the front, and the dealings in them were characterized by considerable buoyancy. Chicago Gas was the great buil card, rising 13-8, to 67-8, despite the fact that nothing definite has come from Chicago as to Attorney-General Moloney's decision.

It is possible that certain of the insiders know what the decision is to be and are discounting its effect, but this is mere conjecture. Sugar and Chleago Gas attracted the largest crowds and led in point of activity.

The stock market was lower in the late afternoon trading. General Electric yielded 1 7-8, and the remainder of the list reacted 1-4 to 15-8 per cent. The decline was partly due to realizations and partly to reports of strained relations between the trunk lines. New York Central was sold at 98 1-4 a 98 seller do, when the prices in the regular way were 99 1-2 a 90 1-4.

The fear that the contemplated reduction in wages by the New York Central will lead to trouble accelerated the downward movement near the close.

The sales of stocks were 170,200 shares.
